

Farewell Party:

Farewell has a sweet sound of reluctance. Good-by is short and final, a word with teeth sharp to bite through the string that ties past to the future.” - John Steinbeck

There is a tradition in every college that the junior students give a farewell to the senior most and outgoing students. The cultural program started with the speeches by the students. They presented other programs like song, dancer, mimicry, skits etc. When the cultural program was over, Refreshments were served to all students. Everyone tried to take cheerful though there was sadness in the air.
